Scene 2

A FATHER`S WELCOME

- Close up of beer pouring. Slowly revealing the scene.
- Interior. Kitchen/living room.
- Picture a cozy kitchen where a father pours Kamenitza into a quirky mug, a playful nod to his son's childhood. It's a small, affectionate gesture that speaks volumes about their relationship. The son, just back from a journey, is greeted with this familiar joke, a testament to their bond. The mother's sentimental reaction adds another layer of warmth to the scene. This moment is about the joy of homecoming, the comfort of family traditions, and the unspoken love that binds them.

Scene 3

THE GAME DAY GATHERING

- Interior. Home
- Visualize a living room buzzing with excitement. A group of friends, eyes fixed on a football match, share the tension and thrill of the game. As the penalties approach, a friend rushes in with a Kamenitza, joining the group just in time. This scene captures the essence of friendship and shared passions, the kind of moment that's made even better with a cold beer in hand.
- I need to think (may be together with the creative team) a little more in order to suggest idea to make this scene little less generic.
